

In Memoriam
Prof. Petar Jovanović, BSc, MSc, PhD
(1943-2018)

Founder and the first Editor-in-Chief of the European Project Management Journal
(previously Serbian Project Management Journal)

Petar Jovanović was a full-time professor in Management, Project Management and Investment Management at the University of Belgrade, Faculty of Organizational Sciences and Educons University, Faculty of Project and Innovation Management. He graduated on Faculty of Mechanical Engineering and had Master degree and Doctoral degree in management from the University of Belgrade. During the period 1991–1996 Petar Jovanović was a Dean of a Faculty of organizational studies. He has written many books in management, project management, investment management, and many papers. He was a founder and President of Serbian Project Management Association and founder and editor of the Serbian Project Management Journal.

During his more than a fruitful career, he gave a significant contribution to the science. He authored forty-two books and monographs and published over a hundred and fifty articles in journals and at conferences. He was editor of several scientific journals: Productivity, International Journal in Management, Technics, SENET PM Review, and Serbian Project Management Journal. Professor Jovanović was honored and a well-known member of International Project Management Association where he was a member of the Education and Training Board. He contributed to the development of the Project management profession on various levels and especially through organizing sixteen international symposia on project management in Serbia.

Besides academic and scientific work, professor Jovanović left a substantial imprint in practice through leading numerous projects, bodies, and organizations. He was president of Association of Technical Faculties, University of Belgrade, president of Science Council Center for Management, University of Belgrade, and President of Board for manager education, Economic chamber of Belgrade. For his contribution to the practice, professor Jovanović has been named as an Expert of Federal Government for Organizational Sciences and Management – According to the Decision of Ministry of Development, Science and Technology.

For his contribution and results, professor Jovanović was awarded several recognitions, awards, and plaquettes.

Editorial team